

Patient led research advances in Fatty Acid Hydroxylase-Associated Neurodegeneration (FAHN/SPG35).

As part of this symposium, I will discuss the current knowledge and steps towards further characterization of FAHN both from a clinical, imaging and biomarker perspective. In addition, there will be discussion on collaborative studies which are underway including structural biology of FA2H, status of animal modelling, iPSC models, and steps being taken towards gene therapy.